

Oleochemical products

Natural. Renewable. Sustainable.

Univar, through our Chemical Associates division, is a leading marketer, manufacturer, and distributor of a full line of fatty acids, fatty alcohols, and derivatives based on vegetable oils, tallow, and tall oil. These products are efficiently sourced from around the globe based on supplier capabilities and economics.

We offer extensive expertise in custom blending and packaging of oleochemicals for use as critical building blocks in formulated products across a wide variety of industries and applications.
